This is important tax information that is being furnished to the Internal Revenue Service. If you are required to file a return, a negligence-penalty will be imposed on you if this dividend, interest, original issue discounts, or net proceeds income is taxable and the IRS determines that it has not been reported.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR RECIPIENT FORM 1099-B

Brokers and barter exchanges must report proceeds from transactions to you and to the Internal Revenue Service. This form is used to report these proceeds.

Box 1: Shows the trade date of the transaction. For aggregate reporting, an entry will be present.

Box 1b: For broker transactions, may show the CUSIP (Committee on Uniform Security Identification Procedures) number of the item reported.

Box 2: Shows the proceeds from transactions involving stocks, bonds, other debt obligations, commodities, or forward contracts. Losses on forward contracts are shown in parentheses. This box does not include proceeds from regulated futures contracts. The broker must indicate whether gross proceeds or gross proceeds less commissions and option premiums were reported to the IRS. Report this amount on Schedule D (Form 1040), Capital Gains and Losses.

Box 3: Shows the fair market value of any trade credits or scrip credited to your account for exchanges of property or services as well as cash received through a barter exchange. Report bartering income in the proper part of Form 1040. See Pub. 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income, on how to report this income.

Box 4: Shows backup withholding. For example, persons not furnishing their taxpayer identification number to the payer become subject to backup withholding at a 31% rate on certain payments. See Form W-9, Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification, for information on backup withholding. Include this amount on your income tax return as tax withheld.

Box 5: Shows a brief description of the item or service for which the proceeds or bartering income is being reported. For regulated futures contracts and forward contracts, "RFC" or other appropriate description, and any amount subject to backup withholding, may be shown.

Box 6: Shows the profit or (loss) realized on regulated futures or foreign currency contracts closed during 1998.

Box 7: Shows any year-end adjustment to the profit (or loss) shown in box 6 due to open contracts on December 31, 1997.

Box 8: Shows the unrealized profit (or loss) on open contracts held in your account on December 31, 1998. These are considered sold as of that date. This will become an adjustment reported in box 7 in 1999.

Box 9: Boxes 6 to 8 are used to figure the aggregate profit (or loss) on regulated futures or foreign currency contracts for the year. Include this figure on your 1998 Form 6781, Gains and Losses From Section 1256 Contracts and Straddles.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR RECIPIENT FORM 1099-DIV

Caution: If an amount appears in box 2a, you must report it on Schedule D (Form 1040). You may not file Form 1040A.

Box 1: Ordinary dividends, which include any net short-term capital gains from a mutual fund, are fully taxable. Include this amount on the "Dividends" line of Form 1040 or 1040A. Also report it on Schedule B (Form 1040) or Schedule 1 (Form 1040A), as appropriate. This amount includes any amount shown in box 5.

The amount shown may be a distribution from an employee stock ownership plan (ESOP). Report it as a dividend on your income tax return, but treat it as a plan distribution, not as investment income, for any other purpose.

Box 2a: Total capital gain distributions (long-term) from a regulated investment company or real estate investment trust. Box 2a includes amounts shown in boxes 2b, 2c, and 2d. Report the amount in box 2a in Part II, Schedule D (Form 1040). If an amount appears in boxes 2b-2d, you must report them on the proper lines of Schedule D (Form 1040).

Box 2b: 28% rate gain from sales or exchanges of assets (including installment payments received) held over 1 year but not over 18 months and all collectibles gains and losses. Report this amount on Schedule D (Form 1040), Part II.

Box 2c: Recaptured section 1250 gain from certain depreciable real property. Report this amount on Schedule D (Form 1040), Part IV.

Box 2d: Section 1202 gain from certain small business stock is subject to a 50% exclusion. See Schedule D (Form 1040) instructions.

Box 3: This part of the distribution is nontaxable because it is a return of your cost (or other basis). You must reduce your cost (or other basis) by this amount for figuring gain or loss when you sell your stock. But if you get back all your cost (or other basis), you must report future nontaxable distributions as capital gains, even though this form shows them as nontaxable. For more information, see Pub. 550, Investment Income and Expenses.

Box 4: Shows backup withholding. For example, persons not furnishing their taxpayer identification number to the payer become subject to backup withholding at a 31% rate on certain payments. See Form W-9, Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification, for information on backup withholding. Include this amount on your income tax return as tax withheld.

Box 5: Any amount shown is your share of expenses of a nonpublicly offered regulated investment company, generally a nonpublicly offered mutual fund. If you file Form 1040, you may deduct these expenses on the "Other expenses" line on Schedule A (Form 1040) subject to the 2% limit. This amount is included in box 1.

Box 6: You may be able to claim this foreign tax as a deduction or a credit on Form 1040. See your Form 1040 instructions.

Boxes 8 and 9: Show cash and noncash liquidating distributions.

Nominees: If your federal ID number is shown on this form and the form includes amounts belonging to another person, you are considered a nominee recipient. You must file Form 1099-DIV for each of the other owners to show their share of the income, and you must furnish a Form 1099-DIV to each. A nominee recipient is not responsible for the tax on the income reported on this form.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR RECIPIENT FORM 1099-INT

Original issue discount (OID) is the excess of a bond's face value over its price at maturity. On a zero-coupon bond, the price is the only amount shown on the recipient's Form 1099-INT. Interest on the face of the bond is the amount the holder of an OID obligation, generally a government issuer, pays to you each year. Your gross income each year you hold the obligation.

Obligations that may have OID include a bond, a zero-coupon bond, and other evidence of indebtedness having a stated maturity date. However, OID rules do not apply to certificates of deposit, CDs, money market savings plans, and other deposit arrangements, except for U.S. government bonds. Interest is deferred until maturity. You file on the 1099-INT the amount of interest on inflation-indexed securities. However, OID on these securities is not reported from state and local income taxes.

If, as the record holder, you receive Form 1099-INT showing interest paid to you or to another person, you are considered a nominee recipient. You must file Form 1099-INT for each of the other owners to show their share of the interest. Attach a Form 1099-INT to each owner. File Form 1099-INT with your 1998 Form 1096, Annual Summary and Transmittal of 1099-INT, and Form 1099-INT with the Internal Revenue Service Center for your area. Do not file Form 1099-INT for yourself as the "payer" and the other owner as the "recipient." Do not file Form 1099-INT to show amounts owned by the other owners. If you are a nominee recipient for the year and you are not a nominee, you are not required to file a Form 1099-INT showing the OID or stated interest allocable to the other owners on the obligation.

Box 1: Shows the OID on the obligation for the part of the year you held it. Report the entire amount in box 1 as interest income on your tax return. However, if you paid acquisition or bond premium, see Pub. 550, Investment Income and Expenses, for reporting instructions. If you use a penalty interest holder in a single-class REMIC (as defined in regulations under section 857) as the "payer," this amount includes your share of the investment expenses of the REMIC, as deductible as a "Miscellaneous Deduction" on Schedule A (Form 1040) subject to the 2% limit.

Box 2: Shows other interest on the obligation for the year you held it, separate from the OID. If you held the obligation the entire year, report this amount as interest income on your tax return. If you disposed of the obligation or acquired it from another holder during the year, see Pub. 550, Investment Income and Expenses, for reporting instructions. If you use a penalty interest holder in a single-class REMIC (as defined in regulations under section 857) as the "payer," this amount includes your share of the investment expenses of the REMIC, as deductible as a "Miscellaneous Deduction" on Schedule A (Form 1040) subject to the 2% limit.

Box 3: Shows the interest or principal you forfeited if you withdrew the money before the maturity date of the obligation, such as from a U.S. Savings Bond. Report this on your Federal income tax return only on the "Penalty on early withdrawal of savings" line of Form 1040.

Box 4: Shows backup withholding. For example, persons not furnishing their taxpayer identification number to the payer become subject to backup withholding at a 31% rate on certain payments shown on the form. See Form W-9, Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification, for information on backup withholding. Include this amount on your income tax return as tax withheld.

Box 5: Shows the identification number (CUSIP number or description of the obligation). The description may include the stock exchange, form, company name, and year of maturity.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR RECIPIENT FORM 1099-INT

Box 1: Shows interest paid to you during the calendar year by the payer. This does not include interest shown in Box 3.

Box 2: Shows interest or principal forfeited because of early withdrawal of money savings. You may deduct this on the "Penalty on early withdrawal of savings" line of Form 1040.

Box 3: Shows interest on U.S. Savings Bonds, Treasury bills, Treasury bonds, and Treasury notes. This may or may not be all taxable. See Pub. 550, Investment Income and Expenses. This interest is exempt from state and local income taxes. This interest is not included in box 1.

Box 4: Shows backup withholding. For example, persons not furnishing their taxpayer identification number to the payer become subject to backup withholding at a 31% rate. See Form W-9, Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification, for information on backup withholding. Include this amount on your income tax return as tax withheld.

Box 5: Shows foreign tax paid. You may be able to claim this tax as a deduction or a credit on your Form 1040. See your Form 1040 instructions.

Nominees: If your federal ID number is shown on this form and the form includes amounts belonging to another person, you are considered a nominee recipient. You must file Form 1099-INT for each of the other owners to show their share of the income. You must also furnish a Form 1099-INT to each of the other owners. File Form(s) 1099-INT with Form 1096, Annual Summary and Transmittal of 1099-INT, with the IRS Center for your area. Attach each Form 1099-INT, list yourself as the "payer" and the other owner as the "recipient." On Form 1096, list yourself as the "filer." Also, you are not required to file a nominee return to show amounts owed by the other
